

Fact Sheet

Travel to the Kurdistan Region in Iraq

This fact sheet refers to the three governorates under the administration of the Kurdistan Regional Government (KRG): Dohuk, Erbil and Suleimaniah.

THE KURDISTAN REGION IN IRAQ

With a population of nearly 4 million, the three governorates of Dohuk, Erbil and Suleimaniah cover about 40,000 square kilometres - four times the area of Lebanon and larger than that of the Netherlands.

The capital of the Region is Erbil, which locally is also known as Hawler. The next largest cities are Suleimaniah and Dohuk.

Since the establishment of the no-fly zone in 1991 and even more so since the liberation of Iraq in 2003, the Kurdistan Region has undergone rapid development. Over 65% of the villages destroyed by Saddam Hussein's regime have been rebuilt, two new airports have been opened and new highways, schools and hospitals are being constructed.

Foreign visitors are warmly welcomed. Among the growing number of visitors are international media and business people, as well as returnees from the Kurdish Diaspora.

While Middle Eastern customs of business, dress and behaviour are closely followed, Kurdistan is also progressive, pluralistic and relatively open.

SECURITY IN THE REGION

The security situation in the Kurdistan Region in Iraq is very different from the rest of Iraq. There are fewer than 200 US soldiers stationed in Kurdistan and not a single coalition soldier has lost their life in the Region since the start of the conflict. The official Regional guard, the Peshmerga forces, are highly trained and experienced in providing security. Working in close cooperation with the Regional Guard are the Asayish (the Security Police) and the regular Police, who provide comprehensive protection against threats and help with routine police matters.

To maintain the level of peace in Kurdistan, there are checkpoints on the borders and city perimeters. Separate advice must be sought for travel outside of the Kurdistan Region. We also recommend that visitors consult travel advice issued by their country of domicile.

VISAS

Please check with your nearest Iraqi Embassy about visa requirements and the application process. The KRG Representations abroad do not issue Iraqi visas, but can advise travellers on requirements. For advice on visas, please email df@krq.org , uk@krq.org , or us@krq.org

FLIGHTS TO THE KURDISTAN REGION IN IRAQ

The Kurdistan Region has two international airports: Erbil International Airport and Suleimaniah International Airport. Most flights operating from Europe and the Middle East fly directly to Kurdistan, without going via Baghdad. Several IATA members scheduled carriers already fly to Erbil, and more IATA airlines are expected to start flights there. Several charter companies also operate flights to Erbil or Suleimaniah.

Below are the contact details or websites of the main airlines and flight operators serving the Kurdistan Region.

FLIGHT INFORMATION IS CORRECT AT TIME OF WRITING, BUT IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE. PLEASE CONFIRM FLIGHT DETAILS DIRECTLY WITH THE AIRLINE OR OPERATOR.

CHECKING IN AT ERBIL AND SULEIMANIAH INTERNATIONAL AIRPORTS

Passengers are advised to arrive at Erbil International Airport at least 2 and a 1/2 hours before departure, to allow sufficient time to board the shuttle bus and go through the security check point to the departure terminal.

OVERLAND ROUTE TO THE KURDISTAN REGION

Overland entry into the Kurdistan Region is possible through Turkey. The suggested route is to fly to Istanbul Ataturk Airport and then take a two-hour domestic flight to Diyarbakir. (Turkish visas can be obtained on arrival at Istanbul Airport. Baggage may have to be retrieved from the International Terminal and checked in at the Domestic Terminal.)

At Diyarbakir Airport taxis can be hired to drive to the Ibrahim Khalil/Habur border crossing point, Turkey's border with the Kurdistan Region in Iraq. Many drivers do this journey frequently and are familiar with the route. It is advisable to settle the price beforehand, a guide price is USD 150, and to check that the driver has the necessary paper work to take passengers over the border. Because of the journey time it is advisable to start the overland journey in the early morning, staying overnight in Diyarbakir if necessary.

After crossing the border at Ibrahim Khalil, another taxi can take you to your destination in the Kurdistan Region. The approximate journey time from Diyarbakir to the border is 4 hours; then from the border to Dohuk is 1.5 hours; to Erbil 4 hours; and to Suleimaniah 6 hours. There are alternative routes via Iran and Syria but these are less frequently travelled.

ASSISTANCE FOR JOURNALISTS AND BUSINESS TRAVELLERS

CURRENCY

The local currency is the Iraqi Dinar. US Dollars are also widely used. Exchange rates as of 3 May 2011:

1 US Dollar = 1,166 Iraqi Dinars

1 Euro = 1,724 Iraqi Dinars

1 British Pound = 1,922 Iraqi Dinars

(For up-to-date exchange rates please visit www.xe.com or www.oanda.com)

Please be aware that there are currently very few ATM machines or credit card facilities. Cash is the only method of payment in the vast majority of shops, hotels and restaurants. Ensure you take enough with you in US dollars or Iraqi dinars for all your expenses including the hotel bill. Exchange facilities are available at the airport, international hotels and exchange shops in the bazaars.

WEATHER

Summer months (May-September) are very hot and dry, especially on the Erbil Plain, often reaching temperatures as high as 50 degrees Celsius. It is slightly cooler in the evenings and in the mountainous regions around Dohuk and Suleimaniah. The winter months can be cool with rain and snowfall.

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

Note: Voltage is 220v. Both UK three-pronged and European two-pronged plugs are in use. Visitors are advised to take a universal adapter with them.

MOBILE PHONES

Asiacell, Korek, the Kurdistan Region's largest mobile phone service operators, have roaming agreements with several foreign operators, including European, US and UK companies. If you wish to use your mobile locally please check with your mobile phone service operator whether it has a roaming agreement with Asiacell or Korek. Roaming agreements can also be checked on the GSM Association website's Iraq roaming partners section: http://www.gsmworld.com/roaming/gsminfo/cou_iq.shtml

Rather than using your home mobile SIM card, it may be cheaper to buy a local SIM card which can be purchased in some hotels and shops. Top-up payment cards for local SIMs are available in hotels and shops.

INTERNET CONNECTIONS

Internet connections are available in many hotels and some private internet cafes. Not all connections are broadband speed.

POSTAL AND FREIGHT SERVICES

Letters and packages can be sent by normal post from the Kurdistan Region abroad, but at present they cannot be sent from abroad to the Kurdistan Region. Fedex and DHL offer air freight services to and from Kurdistan, please contact them for details.

The post office in Erbil is near the Citadel, close to the old court building. Please ask for directions. The Arabic word for post, which is also used in Kurdish, is 'bareed'.

TRAVEL & DISTANCE BETWEEN CITIES

Erbil to Suleimaniah - 170 km, approx. three and half hours drive

Erbil to Dohuk - 245 km, approx. three hours drive

Dohuk to Suleimaniah - 340 km, approx. five hours drive

TIME DIFFERENCE

The Kurdistan Region and the rest of Iraq are three hours ahead of Greenwich Meantime (GMT).

NATIONAL HOLIDAYS

A list of national holidays and important dates is available here:

<http://www.krg.org/articles/detail.asp?nr=139&lngnr=12&smap=03010200&anr=18627>

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Satellite television with CNN and BBC World is available in most hotels. The main regional English-language newspapers are the Kurdish Globe and AK News.

FOOD AND DRINK

Kurdish cuisine is based on lamb, chicken, rice and bread, and the use of many fresh herbs and vegetables. Fish served in restaurants is often barbecued over an open fire to make a traditional Iraqi dish called mazgouf. Fresh fruit or paklava, a Middle Eastern flaky pastry and nut dessert, is usually served after the main course. While many types of fruit and vegetables are available throughout the year, seasonal and local products, such as wild asparagus, native rhubarb, green almonds and buffalo yoghurt, are highly prized and enjoyed. Black tea with sugar is the most popular beverage both inside and outside the home. Drinking alcohol in moderation is acceptable in some restaurants and hotels. Drunken and loud behaviour is frowned upon.

KURDISH PHRASES

There are two dialects of Kurdish spoken in the Kurdistan Region in Iraq: Kurmanji, spoken mainly in Dohuk, and Sorani, spoken in Erbil and Suleimaniah.

English	Kurdish
How are you?	Choni?
Good morning	Bayani Bash
Good afternoon	Ewara Bash
Good night	Shaw Bash

Iraq: Then and Now, published by Bradt Travel Guides in April 2008, is a guide to Iraq's history and present-day, provides information on archaeology and culture, and includes 17 maps of different parts of Iraq. It includes a chapter on the Kurdistan Region.

Some of the Kurdistan Region's places of interest and tourist attractions are listed here:

ERBIL AND SURROUNDS:

Erbil citadel dates back 6,000 years BC and forms the original boundaries of the city. Erbil is one of the oldest continually inhabited cities in the world.

Sami Abdul Rahman Park is a large municipal park built on the site of a former Ba'ath military base.

Qaysari bazaar is Erbil city's traditional market, selling household goods, food, textiles, gold and souvenirs.

Sheikh Chooli minaret in the western district of Erbil was built by Sultan Mudhaffarudeen and dates back to 543-586 AD. The minaret is the focal point for the recently developed Minara Park.

Khanzad castle on the Erbil - Shaqlawa road dates back to the Soran Period when the Region was ruled by several principalities.

Rabban Beya monastery is a one-hour climb over mountain paths. There are two large highly engraved cave-like chambers that date back to the fourth century AD.

Shaqlawa resort is 51 km north of Erbil and is a popular weekend and holiday destination with a great fresh produce market.

Gali Ali Beg ravine and waterfall is 130km from Erbil, a popular place for recreational picnics.

Bekhal Resort is another water resort 140km from Erbil and a short drive from Gali Ali Berg.

DOHUK AND SURROUNDS:

Saint Ith Llaha Church, just west of Dohuk, is oldest church in the region and dates back to 500AD.

Amadiyah town, 90km north east of Dohuk, dates back to the Assyrian Period and is a former principality. Amadiyah's minaret is 30 metres high, with views from the top of the nearby mountains and valleys.

Amadiyah citadel is located on the eastern side of Amadiyah city. Its gateway is featured in Kurdistan: The Other Iraq adverts and documentary. See www.theotheriraq.com

SULEIMANIAH AND SURROUNDS:

Suleimaniah museum, located on Salim Street, houses local items that date back thousands of years. It is one of the richest museums in the Region.

Dokan lake, 70km west of Suleimaniah, is a local resort with hotels, restaurants and holiday chalets.

Darbandikhan dam 65km south east of Sulemaniah also has tourist cabins, restaurants, leisure facilities.

Ahmadawa resort, known for its springs, waterfalls and orchards, is a popular summer escape for locals and tourists.
